

SOVIET AGENTS ARE LEAVING HERE, U. S. OFFICIALS NOTE

Exact Statistics Withheld,
But Agencies Are Withdrawing

EXPORTS STOPPAGE

Lomakin's Place Likely To Be Filled in Near Future

By George Burno
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Washington officials noted today with interest a slow but progressing withdrawal of registered Soviet agents from this country.

Exact statistics are withheld, but in particular Amtorg, the official Russian purchasing agency in the United States, seems to be contracting its activities.

Virtual stoppage of all American exports to Russia gave a possible clue to this exodus of Soviet workers, even though Amtorg has provided a legitimate working base for Russians for 29 years.

Despite press speculation that Moscow might retaliate against Americans for Soviet Consul General Jacob Lomakin's expulsion from New York in connection with the fugitive school teacher case, officials here are not unduly perturbed.

The Berlin kidnapping of Thomas Headon, deputy director of the U. S.
information control division, was not considered by most observers as retaliation for the consular expulsion.

Retaliation in the "cold war" usually is in kind, and a demand for expulsion of American personnel
from Russia or the occupied zones would be a more likely response to the Lomakin case.

No action on the Headon case is expected until the State Department receives full details from Berlin.

A State Department spokesman pointed out that Lomakin's place in the New York Consulate probably would be filled shortly with full approval of this government.

By Neil Shaw,

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 23—California's Governor Earl Warren is heralded as one of the strongest vice-presidential candidates ever nominated by the Republican party.

The varied personal and political experiences of the silver-haired 57-year-old chief executive appear to create an unusually rich background for handling the tough job ahead.

Those who know Warren best,
assert that if ever a man can survive the virtual oblivion usually accompanying the vice-presidency of the United States, "he is the one to do it."

TRUMAN'S IRON CURTAIN

We hear a lot about Stalin's "iron curtain" which keeps us from knowing what really goes on in Russia.

But there's another iron curtain that isn't talked about so much.

That is the one which President Truman has set up to keep YOU from knowing what's going on in the U. S. government.

Is it any of your business what Uncle Sam is doing?

Of course it is. You, as a citizen and a voter, are one of those to whom the U. S. Government is supposed to belong. How can it be YOUR government, if it can successfully keep you from knowing what it is doing? It's you, and your family, who will do the fighting in the next and (apparently) rapidly approaching World War. Aren't you entitled to know what Mr. Truman's diplomats are doing to stave off that war—or bring it about?

You pay the taxes which the Federal Government spends.
You pay a lot more taxes than you think. Prices are high because there are so many hidden taxes in all of them. Don't you think you ought to be able to find out what the Government is doing with this money?

Next November you are going to vote on some of the most important issues in history. How can you make up your mind intelligently which way to vote, if the important facts are kept a secret from you?

"Your" Government is a little like your own children you have to know exactly what they have been doing before you know whether they have earned a kiss or a cuff.

Two recent happenings remind us how impossible it has become, under President Truman, for the ordinary citizen to know even the simplest facts about his government.

One of these was Mr. Truman's clamp-down on information about Communists in the Federal Government. Everyone knows that for several years pro-Reds have been able to get good government jobs in Washington—not only well-paid jobs, often with a car and chauffeur thrown in; but jobs where they could find out secrets to be passed along to Russia, and also could help soften up our government for a Communist revolution.

Recently Congressmen began again digging into this subject.
They uncovered a lot of dirt, and got on the trail of a great deal more. Some of the most important clues turned out to be in the public records of persons working for Mr. Truman. Did the

Firemen Answer Two False Calls in 24 Hours

Bristol firemen have been called from their beds on two consecutive mornings by false alarms. Sunday morning, shortly after two o'clock,
a false call was received by telephone at fire headquarters to the effect there was a house afire at Nelson Court.

The firemen struck Box 317 and all companies responded.

This morning at about one o'clock
Box No. 36, Wilson avenue and Roosevelt street, was struck. The firemen again rushed to the scene
only to find that the call was false.

The call telephoned on Sunday morning was given in a man's voice,
the firemen say.

Jerusalem—Israel stood ready today to negotiate separate peace terms with individual Arab states. An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman who announced the offer said he thought Trans-Jordan might be especially interested, but declined to say whether an approach to King Abdullah has already been made. Israel's earlier invitation to all Arab states for a round table peace conference was rejected by the Arabs on the ground that they do not recognize the existence of the Jewish State.

Soviet Troops Release Headen

Berlin—Soviet troops released today Thomas P. Headen of Hemp-stead, L. I., deputy information control officer of the U. S. Military Gov-announcement said that Headen had been let go after a formal United States demand for his release. But it was not certain that his liberation had ended the explosive incident which found Headen hustled into a Soviet jeep on the busy Potsdamer Platz before the eyes of his wife and two children. The Russians previously had denied holding Headen.

2 UNDER ARREST FOR ROBBERY AT ANDALUSIA STORE

Philadelphia Man Surprised
By State Police
On Patrol

IMPLICATES ANOTHER

One of Prisoners Admits 15
Other Burglaries, Police Claim

A Philadelphia man was surprised and arrested Thursday morning
by Penn. State Police of Langhorne barracks when, according to police, he was found burglarizing the
A. & P. store, Bristol Pike, Andalusia. Another man was arrested by Philadelphia detectives Saturday
in connection with the same burglary.

The men gave their names as:
James McLean, 34, 2318 E. Mercer street; and Walter Donaker, 30, 5194 Arrendel avenue, Philadelphia.
McLean also admitted 15 other burglaries in lower Bucks county in the past year, police say.

Pts. William Thomas and Thomas F. Marks of the state police were on patrol when they discovered Mc-Lean in the act of taking cigarettes
from the A. & P. store, they say.

He was apprehended and taken to the office of Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo, where he admitted the burglary and also implicated Donaker. He told police he had entered the store by climbing on the back roof and breaking a hole in the ceiling with a crowbar
and dropping through to the floor.

Detective George Sauer, liaison officer for the Penna. State Police,
City Hall, Philadelphia, was contacted and asked to take Donaker into custody. Sauer, with State Police and Russo, arrested Donaker at the home of his mother on State road, Pleasant Hill, Philadelphia, and returned to Bucks county. Under questioning by state police and the county detective he admitted participating in the burglary of the
A. & P. store.

Officers are still investigating other cases they admitted outside of Bucks county.

Sees No Necessity For Chalfont Water Authority

CHALFONT, Aug. 23—Establishment of a water authority is not likely to take place here. Council for some time had been considering the matter, and at a meeting of the town officials, the borough engineer, William Boardman, was asked to give his views concerning the proposition.

Mr. Boardman explained to council that the town's water department is on a paying basis, and said that the establishment of a water authority in his opinion will not be of any benefit.

The street committee has placed Fourth street on the agenda to be put in first class condition early next spring on the provision that the property owners on the street
pay their curbs and gutters.

Members of council who attended a meeting in Doylestown, where the Bucks County Association of Boroughs was formed a few weeks ago, gave detailed reports concerning the session.

Councilman Stuart M. Hartzel announced having issued three building permits, one of them for a dwelling, during the past month.
The next meeting of council will be held Wednesday evening, September 15.

MOSQUITO TEST

With registration for the draft about to start, many young men may be wondering whether they would prefer the Army or the Navy. That's a matter of taste. It is also likely to be a matter of doing what they're told.

In any case, tests made by Department of Agriculture entomologists may have some bearing on the problem. These experts let mosquitoes make 1,000 attempts to bite through an Army field jacket. There were only five successes. Later they tried the same experiment on a light Navy nylon garment. The mosquitoes ran up the score of 600 in 1,000.

It is easy to think of reasons why these two tests hardly constitute a fair comparison of Army and Navy. For one thing, a gosh on a ship a thousand miles from land doesn't have to worry much about mosquitoes. For another, the Navy garment is probably much cooler.

But under the same conditions, with trainees in camps in the United States, it seems to add up to a choice whether to scratch with the Navy or swelter with the Army.

SOME ARE SAVING

Americans have been dipping into their savings, and borrowing money, to meet high living costs. Last year, according to latest figures, Americans spent $3,500,000,000 more than their combined income. By July of this year consumer credit had reached a new postwar high of $13,500,000,000.

These figures are danger signs. But there are other figures that offer some encouragement. The Treasury Department has just reported that sales of E, F and G Savings Bonds for the first seven months of 1948 have shown a substantial increase compared to the same period in 1947 and the net gain—sales over redemptions—stands at more than double the comparable figure in 1946.

The record looks particularly hopeful in the case of the E bonds—the "popular" bonds sold in small denominations. Sales were $2,819,270,000 in the first seven months of 1946, $2,593,876,000 in 1947, and $2,574,125,000 in 1948.

But in 1946 redemptions amounted to $3,480,177,000, so there was a net loss of $660,907,000. They fell to $2,360,114,000 in 1947 and to $2,218,903,000 in 1948. Therefore the net gain this year, $355,222,000 was 50 per cent greater than the $233,762,000 net gain registered last year.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Aug. 11, 1898. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

Several trains of Roosevelt's Rough Riders passed through Bristol yesterday on their way to Montauk Point, L. I. The boys showed the hard service they had seen in Cuba, by the worn condition of their uniforms and sunburned faces.

The E. W. Minster Association, a colored Republican Club, will hold a picnic this afternoon and evening at Hultmeville Park.

F. L. Peirce, the barber, is having his new shop fixed up in style. It is his intention to have ladies' hair dressing parlors in the adjoining room and bath put in the basement.

Perch have been biting very well the past week in the Delaware, several good strings have been caught on the fishing grounds opposite Landreth's farm, above the town.

The mud which was placed on one block of road on Mill street, as a top dressing, has been scraped off and a regular stone dressing put on.

The horse attached to Smith's milk wagon got frightened at the blowing of the gas works whistle early last Tuesday morning and ran away. The animal never stopped until opposite Landreth's. "Hoke" jumped on his trusty bike and followed. When he reached the stopping place he found one wheel was off the wagon.

The Penn Valley Presbyterian Church will hold its annual Harvest Home in Anthony Sickle's woods on August 24.

About 700 people went on the Atlantic City excursion given by the employees of William H. Grundy & Co. last Saturday. This is the smallest number taken on the excursion in a number of years.

John W. Jones, a Bristol boy, was killed at the battle of El Caney, on June 24. Mrs. Sarah A. Jones, living on Garden street, with whom John Jones boarded when in Bristol, on last June wrote a letter to him. . . . a few days ago the letter was returned to the Bristol post.

Truman's Iron Curtain

President pitch in and help reveal the facts? Oh, no! On the contrary, Mr. Truman issued fiat orders that no such information should be given to Congress by any of his staff, or by the Cabinet, or even by the FBI.

Now, you as a voter helped elect Congress as your most direct representative in the national government. Congress was intended, under the Constitution, to be the most powerful branch of the government—it even has the power to impeach and remove a President. Yet, instead of helping Congress in this urgent matter, President Truman has done all he could to block it.

In other words, DOWN WENT THE TRUMAN IRON CURTAIN ON THE SUBJECT OF COMMUNISM IN THE TRUMAN GOVERNMENT.

An instance of facts being so twisted that the truth is concealed occurred in the recent Truman report on the budget. Mr. Truman insisted that the government is going to be "in the red" at least a billion and a half this year because the Republicans cut taxes (he thinks) too much.

The deceptiveness of this lies in that, even taking Mr. Truman's own figures, there will be an actual surplus of a billion and a half. The difference rises from the fact that the Republicans decided to use a three billion surplus left from last year to help pay for the Marshall Plan. Mr. Truman thinks this was all wrong. Apparently he had something else he wanted to do with that surplus.

But here's where the subject gets so confusing that the average citizen hasn't a chance to know the facts: almost as soon as the Truman report was out, Republican tax experts in Congress charged that the President's figures had been juggled, and that truth is the year will end with a surplus of at least six billions.

These Republicans, incidentally, have been a lot nearer the facts in their previous estimates than the President has.

But what can people like YOU, who haven't time to wade through reams of financial reports about the government, really know about the Federal budget, when the President's own version appears to be a total of $7,500,000,000 off from the best available information in Congress. That's a margin of error of nearly 20 per cent for the whole budget—a great deal too much even for careless figures to make.

The truth is that here again, in the field of Federal finances, MR. TRUMAN'S IRON CURTAIN HIDES THE FACTS FROM YOU.

There hasn't been an honest and competent audit of the overall financial picture of this country for fifteen years. We don't know within hundreds of billions of dollars how much of a mortgage has been put on the country's taxpayers (that means YOU) over and above the actual bonded debt. We don't know what our paper money is really worth—all we know is that it is worth a good deal less than the 59 cents on the dollar it became in 1934. We don't know how much gold the government actually owns (not promised to some other country) or what that gold is worth. Way back, fourteen years or so ago, former President Roosevelt issued an order saying it was worth $35 an ounce, compared with the former "free" price of $20; but that didn't MAKE it worth $35.

All these things are hidden behind MR. TRUMAN'S IRON CURTAIN!

So are many other matters involved in this election. No one, for example, knows the real facts about our foreign policy. What are we trying to do? Is Russia seeking to double-cross us—or are we simply trying to wriggle out of very stupid promises we made to Russia some years ago, at Teheran, Yalta, London, San Francisco and Potsdam? Is the war scare simply something whipped up by Washington braintrusts to try to help re-elect Mr. Truman? Or is there in fact no possible hope of making peace with Russia?

You are not alone in being unable to answer such questions. No one knows the answers, except a small cluster of confidants close to Mr. Truman—and they aren't telling. Many of these persons are those who helped put the TRUMAN IRON CUR-TAIN in place to hide the secrets of the Pearl Harbor scandal—and that worked out so well in keeping the truth from the American people, that they propose to keep the curtain in place so long as they are in power.

There is an iron curtain between you and any frank examination of the Marshall Plan. It is beginning to leak out, for example, that the whole Marshall Plan was little more than a disguised loan to Great Britain—a loan engineered by pro-socialist labor radicals in Washington to "bail out" their labor party friends who are making a mess of the English government; and to pay the costs of the cradle-to-grave social security program which has been put in effect there since the Marshall Plan was adopted.

Again, those who have gone over the details of the Marshall Plan insist that at least a third of the money is being spent for the most fantastic and wasteful purposes imaginable—such boondoggling, for instance, as providing millions of dollars worth of tobacco, free (YOU pay the bill), to those who had been previously described as "the starving babies in Europe"; countless instances of buying costly, de luxe equipment when run-of-mill articles would do as well; on down to such absurdities as using part of the money to pay off the debts of some of these European governments.

All of this is being hidden behind the TRUMAN IRON CURTAIN!

Still again, the Marshall Plan is the most direct cause of present high prices. Go into any foodstuff you can think of, which is too high at the grocery store, and you will find that YOUR government, under the cloak of foreign aid, has been buying it up wholesale, at absurdly high prices, and shipping it abroad—with little regard to whether it is really needed there or not.

For all President Truman's yelling about high prices, the essential facts of the main cause of high prices are being hidden back of the TRUMAN IRON CURTAIN.

What can you do about all this? At the moment, nothing. But your turn at bat will come one of these days. It will come next November 2, the date of the next Presidential election.

If you don't like living under a government which is trying to fool you with an IRON CURTAIN between you and any facts the government thinks you might not approve, then the thing to do is to make up your mind now to vote that government out of power.

America is no place for a government that is not honest enough and frank enough to let the people know the facts.

Plan to get rid of such government by voting STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN next election day. Be sure you are registered, and that all your family and friends are registered.

And spread the gospel among those you meet that the American people have just one real chance getting rid of their IRON CURTAIN government which is trying to take them over—and that is to vote it out of office next November.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Political Misconceptions

Washington, Aug. 23

AT THIS stage of the campaign it seems worth pointing out several erroneous calculations which appear generally accepted. Correction of one of these is to the advantage of Governor Dewey. Correction of two others rather strengthens the case for Mr. Truman—though not to the point where his chances of success are not still remote. For example, it has been mistakenly thought frequently, asserted by this writer among others, that the approximately 2,500,000 civilian jobholders on the Federal pay roll estimating each to be worth a minimum of four votes mean a basic asset for the President of 10,000,000 votes.

CAREFUL research shows this statement to be incorrect. Far from being able to count upon 10,000,000 votes from the jobholders, it is doubtful whether Mr. Truman can count upon two thirds of that number. Various correspondents in different parts of the country point out that there are at least $25,000 post-office employees included in this 2,500,000, that all of these $25,000 are under civil service protection, that a majority of them are Republicans, and that Governor Dewey probably will get 75 per cent of the total. In addition, the civil service protects a great many other jobholders in other departments. Also, in Washington, where the greatest jobholder concentration exists, most of them have no votes. In brief, the contention that the full weight of the Federal machine is behind the President and that that means 10,000,000 votes just does not hold water. Undoubtedly, it is an asset but nothing like as great an asset as has been stated.

THIS, a widely heralded source of strength for Mr. Truman is minimized by the facts. On the other hand, two elements of weakness stressed by his critics, when examined, are not nearly as unfavorable as they seem. One is the admitted fact that the Democrats will have difficulty in raising adequate campaign funds. The other is that Democratic candidates for Senate, House and other elective offices, are far more interested in their own election than in Mr. Truman's. Hence, the argument is Mr. Truman will be neglected by these candidates, interested only in their own selves; by the big city bosses, interested only in their local tickets; by the CIO, which as proclaimed by the blatant Mr. Reuther, in private one of the coarsest of the Truman detractors is chiefly interested in electing "good" members of Congress.

NONE of these alleged facts stands up well under analysis. True, the Democrats will find it harder to raise money than before. The expectation that Dewey will be elected makes it easy for a number of rich and self-seeking so-called Democrats who gave lavishly to the Roosevelt campaigns, while personally hating Roosevelt, to close their purses tight now. But by no means all of them will do that and there are in Mr. Truman's Cabinet—particularly on the level just below the Cabinet—a number of formerly obscure wealthy men, now deeply enjoying their Washington jobs and lives, who feel under obligations to the Truman Administration. One of these, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, has been made chairman of the Democratic finance committee. Nearly all of them will "come through." So will a great many smaller jobholders. It is a matter of self-interest.

BESIDES, the Democrats do not need nearly as much money as the Republicans. Their candidate is in the White House, which in many ways gives obvious campaign advantages and facilities for which his opponent must pay. Not only will the Democrats require less than half as much money as the Republicans but their treasury is not now—and will not be later—nearly as bare as has been depicted. So much for the question of money. Now, consider the theory that all the other Democratic candidates, the city bosses and the CIO are going to "ditch" Mr. Truman and look out only for themselves.

SO FAR as many of these "gentlemen" are concerned, few would put that sort of treachery beyond them. The practical political fact, however, is that it is not possible to be treacherous in this way except on a small scale. For one thing, all the candidates run on the same ticket with Mr. Truman at the head. Treachery to him not only would not pay other candidates in votes but open treachery would react. The self-interest of the lesser candidates is for the head of the ticket to run as well as possible, not as badly as possible. It makes no sense for either the House and Senate candidates or the city bosses not to do as well for Mr. Truman as they can. They would have preferred General Eisenhower, but they got Mr. Truman, and their fortunes in this election are linked with his—and they know it.

AS FOR the CIO, it already has been demonstrated that its leaders cannot deliver their rank and file. Already 93 per cent of the congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill and whom they threatened to "drive out of public life" have been renominated and most of them will be elected. Mr. Truman opposed, vetoed and denounced that bill. On the surface, these labor leaders are supporting him. Undercover treachery could not remain undercover long and it would be stupid as well as discreditable. To sum up, while

Mr. Truman's jobholder support is not nearly as solid as has been claimed, in the matter of finances and party loyalty he is not nearly as feeble as contended. His trouble is not so much with labor leaders, city bosses, money givers and party figures. His real trouble is with the millions of voters who are independent of bosses, campaign contributors and politicians. The assets and liabilities above mentioned are not unimportant but they are not going to be decisive in this contest—not by a long shot.

Warren Heralded As One Of Strongest V.-P. Candidates

denies the governor's unshakable faith in the American way of life and his unswerving devotion to home and family.

More than the ordinary interest attached to activities of a vice-presidential candidate will be centered upon Warren's campaign drive.

This situation arises because Governor Thomas E. Dewey has said repeatedly that if the ticket is successful, the Californian will have a "full partnership" in the administration.

Warren is preparing to call for nation-wide voter support of what he terms will be a "new order in politics."

This "new order," according to the governor, "must bring to our national administration personal and organization. Integrity so strict at the higher levels that it will permeate the whole federal service."

Warren was born on March 19, 1891 in a little cottage in Los Angeles. His boyhood jobs in Bakersfield, Cal., and his subsequent struggles for advancement as a young attorney all combined to develop his present direct approach toward challenging any difficult questions.

Warren's accomplishments as a district attorney, as attorney general, and as 26th governor of California, serve as excellent guideposts in what to expect from him in the future.

WARREN THINKS IT'S 'A GOOD SIGN'

developed on the role that private Friends schools should play in these times as the public school systems progressively improve. Many felt that a greater opportunity for development of a standard of values in our young people was still offered in our private schools. Opportunities for religious instruction and a freer discussion of present day political and economic problems are possible. The importance of the home influence throughout the child's education was repeatedly emphasized.

"Important and effective as the ministry of the spoken word may be, it is the ministry of our lives which is needed to solve the problems of our time," was the theme of the morning session on Ministry and Counsel.

The success of this joint quarterly meeting was largely due to the efforts of the planning committee, under the chairmanship of William Eves III, of George School.

Soviet Agents Leaving Here, Officials Note

Secretary of State Marshall recently urged that Russia enter into a consular agreement with the United States. Such a pact is customary between countries enjoying diplomatic relations, but Moscow to date has turned a deaf ear.

The Russians have consulates in New York and San Francisco, aside from usual consular activities conducted from the Washington Embassy.

Against this, the United States has a consulate in Vladivostok.

After repeated reminders from the State Department about this inequality of representation the Kremlin agreed to establishment of another American consulate in Leningrad—but amazingly for months no space has been "available" in that Russian city and the consulate never has been activated.

Figures are not exact as to the relative official representations in the U. S. and Moscow, particularly in view of recent homeward nods from Moscow.

As of April, 1948, those present in the Russian Embassy in Washington numbered 87. Amtorg had 103; United Nations personnel totaled 79; the New York consulate numbered 46; and the San Francisco consulate numbered 16.

As of January, 1948, U. S. official representation in Moscow totaled 103. Oscar C. Holder is in Vladivostok as U. S. Consul, together with his wife, a vice-consul and one clerk—but all of them are accredited to the Moscow Embassy.

Some reports indicate the Soviet consulate in New York, from which Mrs. Oksana Kosenkina jumped to freedom, has as many as 60 employees. Washington officials said this figure might be correct, but pointed to the proximity of the Russian United Nations staff as a possible explanation of the divergence from their register of 46.

HEALTH HINTS

Machinery accounts for about one-tenth of all fatal accidents on the farm.

An industrial worker has a single stationary machine to operate.

The modern farmer has many machines to operate, some propelled by animals, others by motor power.

These machines are in various stages of repair and are used over both smooth and rough ground.

The farmer does not have a forty hour week—his work starts early in the morning and often lasts until late at night.

The farmer is tired, it is dark, he is in a hurry to finish his chores and in a moment of carelessness he becomes the victim of an accident.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

A WELCOME meal, at any season of the year, is roast leg of lamb, and the A & P Service for Home Makers suggests this as the main dish for dinner this Sunday.

The lighter pink the meat is in color, the younger the lamb. The color darkens to a deeper pink as the animal grows older. The leg will weight five to six pounds at the market. Have the butcher remove the shank bone if you wish, but do not remove the fell, which is the covering skin.

Rub the meat with salt and pepper and place it fat side up on a rack in an uncovered roasting pan. Set the oven heat moderately slow (300-325 F.) and roast from 20 to 35 minutes a pound. Remember, lamb should be well-done.

If desired, during the roasting the meat can be basted with mint, grape jelly or fruit juices, or with mustard, Worcestershire sauce, vinegar or tomato catsup.

Mashed potatoes and tiny English peas, with a salad of grapefruit sections on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing will complete the meal. A fruit pie goes well as dessert for a lamb dinner.

go with an Army job in Japan!

How times have changed.

Three years ago, when our first victorious combat men left Japan, much of it was a shambles. The Japanese people were so dazed by defeat they didn't know which way to turn. The life of an Army man often had its discomforts.

But look at him today! He's helped to start the rebuilding of Japan, to restore roads and railways, to inspire a tired and hungry people with the hope of Democracy. Under his guiding hand, courts of justice, woman suffrage and freedom of worship have been brought about. In Japan there is only one soldier for every 400 Japanese—the smallest per capita occupation army in the world.

The pay of a Private is 50% higher than three years ago, then another 20% higher overseas. And almost every cent can be banked. None of it goes

While on leave, he can ski in winter or visit summer resorts at a fraction of what these activities would cost him in the United States.

MEN OF MERIT

"It's a beautiful day in Chicago!" That cheery phrase, familiar to early morning listeners to radio station WMAQ, first was uttered by Everett Mitchell on an actually gloomy day in April, 1932—during the depression. It so encouraged hearers that it has been retained as opener for the daily program. Mitchell, one of the nation's foremost radio authorities on agriculture, has spent 23 years and traveled more than a million miles in promoting a better understanding between city and rural folks, helping farmers and consumers alike. He loves his work and his hobbies of photography and fishing. His radio fans are right in believing that Everett Mitchell is just as amiable as he is efficient in his splendid mission.

An increase in quantity is called INCREMENT. Which you have when your money is hoarded, not spent.

History eventually does repeat itself. Not so long ago we were entertained by "The Lost Weekend" and "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." At the Bowery Theatre (N.Y.), about 90 years ago, patrons shouted approval of "The Drunkard's Doom" and "Life in Brooklyn, Its Lights and Shades, Its Virtues and Vices."

Fishing is fine relaxation. Don't nullify it through getting excited with a catch—moving about or standing up in the boat. Too often this has resulted in members of a fishing party joining the fishes, instead of the intended reverse.

It is reported that cows, fed fodder made from coffee berries and leaves, will give coffee-flavored milk. Seven-year-old Sylvia thinks that a more popular application of the idea would be to feed the cows powdered malted milk.

SHOE SITUATION

MEXICO CITY—(INS)—Shoes are proving one of the many stumbling blocks to approval of the Mexico-United States commercial treaty, which has been in negotiations several months. The National Industrial Chamber of Commerce demands that imports of shoes from the United States be banned completely. They say they want to protect the Mexican shoe industry. Incidentally, more than half of Mexico's population has never worn shoes.

RECIPES

BROILED SPRING CHICKEN

3 broilers, 2½ lb. each, split in halves.
Melted butter or margarine.
Brush clean, split broilers with melted butter or margarine. Place each half with skin side down on top section in broiler pan. Have broiler burner or unit at full heat. Place broiler pan in heated broiler compartment, making sure that chicken is six inches from broiler flame (8 to 9 inches from broiler unit in electric ranges). Broil 20 minutes; then turn skin side up and broil 10 to 15 minutes longer.

If your broiler is in a separate compartment alongside the oven, you can turn down the heat and in that case you can have the chicken closer to heat and still get it done through without burning.

However, if your broiler is under the oven so that the broiler heat is on full, make sure of two things: (1) have the chicken six inches from the flame, (2) keep the door of the bake oven open. The reason for the open oven

Newportville Community Church Is the Scene of Pretty Wedding

NEWPORTVILLE, Aug. 23.—An attractive wedding was solemnized in the Newportville Community Church-Presbyterian, on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock, when Miss Mary Jane Wimmersberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Wimmersberger, Sr., of Emmitt road, became the bride of William Potts, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Potts, Sr., of Newport Heights. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, pastor of Bristol Presbyterian Church. The altar of the church was decorated with palms and a bouquet of gladioli. Miss Clara Hilck, Hulmeville, played a prelude of organ music prior to the ceremony, and also accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Herman Becker, Jr., who sang "Because," "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "O Perfect Love." To the strains of the wedding march, the bride entered the edifice on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her attendants were Miss Elva Brambley, as maid of honor, and Miss Anna White, as bridesmaid. The groom's attendants were Mr. Albert Settle as best man and Mr. John Potts, brother of the groom, as usher.

The bride was attired in Candelight bridal satin, illusion neckline outlined by satin bertha, edged in pleated silk net, long petal pointed sleeves, tightly fitted bodice, full skirt flowing into a rounded train. Her finger-tipped veil of imported English illusion, scalloped, was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and asters with tiny clusters of baby breath caught in the streamers of white satin ribbon. Miss Brambley, the maid of honor, was gowned in yellow velvet rae with frosted flowers. V neckline with ruffled cape sleeves, fitted bodice, full floor length skirt trimmed with a double ruffle. She carried a bouquet of lavender asters and had flowers in her hair like that in her bouquet. The bridesmaid, Miss White, was gowned like the maid of honor, the color being peace, and she carried a bouquet of lavender asters; both wore white pumps and mitts to match their gowns.

The bride's mother was attired in black and white crepe dress, with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of shell pink asters. The mother of the groom was attired in brown and white, with

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Bickley Burns Brodhead
Pastor of Bensalem Methodist Church

Gracious Lord of life, Who has been the eternal refuge for all who call in spirit and in truth, from the pressures of the whirl of wheels and rush of blinding trade we bring our little lives to Thee. Our years are like shadows that pass on sunny hillsides, yet we know that through Thee they have eternal significance. We turn to Thee for but a moment, but find in that space of time the message of eternity. In this moment, teach us afresh that we are not our own, but in life, and purpose, and possessions we are Thine, stewards of life itself. Help us to live more worthy of this calling, more like our Master in whose spirit we pray, Amen.

brown accessories. Her corsage was of shell pink asters.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for sixty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The newlyweds left for a motor trip to the New England states, the bride traveling in a two piece fault dress, brown accessories, pink gloves and pink rose corsage. The bride presented her attendants with Richelieu satin moonbeam pearls.

Mr. Potts graduated from Bensalem high school in 1942, and entered the navy that year. He is still in the navy, EM/1c, and at the present time to be stationed in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The bride graduated from Bristol high school in 1944 and at the present time is employed by Robert Cameron, tax collector.

GOODWILL WINS THIRD GAME OF QUARTER-FINALS

With Goodwill Hose winning yesterday, the third game of the quarter-finals playoff series between the hosenmen and the Democrat Club will be played this evening on the Third Ward field, starting at six o'clock.

The Democrats committed too many errors and played loose ball at field to hand the fire-eaters the victory yesterday. Final tabulations showed: Goodwill Hose, 10; Democrat Club, 4. The game was cut short at the end of the sixth because of the heavy downpour of rain.

Eight errors were charged to the Democrats and on several other occasions, Goodwill batsmen were given hits on slow fielding by the losers.

Gordon Fahey produced the most telling blow of the game in the second inning when he tripled with the bags loaded and scored a moment later on a hit by Cahill to erase a 3-0 deficit that the Democrats made in the first inning.

CROYDON PLAYS TERRACE TO TIE; RAIN HALTS GAME

The Bristol Terrace and Croydon team played yesterday afternoon but not much was accomplished in the series standing as the game ended in a 6-6 tie. Rain curtailed the game in the last half of the seventh but the score reverted back to the sixth. As a result, the two teams will continue their series tomorrow evening on the Terrace field.

Joe Ashby was the Croydon twirler in the deadlocked game while both Billy Hibbs and Dave Muth pitched for the Terrace boys. Croydon made eight hits off the pair of Terrace pitchers while Terrace muffed Ashby for 10 hits.

CALVARY BAPTIST WINS IN EIGHTH

Scoring two runs in the eighth inning, Calvary Baptist came from behind to nose out Bristol Presbyterian, 4-3, in a close, hard-fought contest in the opening game of Series "C" (finals) for the championship of the Lower Bucks Church Softball League on the Bristol Township Junior High School Field Saturday afternoon.

Trailing 3-2 going into the eighth Calvary put together three hits, which, mixed with an error and two wild pitches, accounted for the ultimate winning markers.

LANGHORNE PUTS HIBERNIANS OUT OF THE PLAYOFFS

LANGHORNE, Aug. 23 — Langhorne Legion eliminated the Hibernians from the playoffs of the Bristol Suburban League with a 9-6 triumph in an abbreviated game yesterday afternoon on Playwick field. As the result of win, Langhorne will meet the winner of the Democrat Club-Goodwill Hose series in another three-game series, which will probably start on Wednesday evening.

"Charlie" Martindell pitched for the Legionnaires and although solved for ten hits and given rather poor support managed to chalk up the victory. Martindell's mates committed seven errors which aided the Hibs in the scoring of their six markers.
